As a prospective participant in the sport of Airsoft, it is extremely important that you have an understanding of the risks of personal injury and/or death that are associated with the sport. The following is intended to inform you of the general nature of those risks before your participation begins. The following is not intended to be an exhaustive discussion of those risks. Accordingly, should you have any questions pertaining to the nature and extent of those risks you should question the management of this field. Only after you have satisfied yourself as to the nature and extent of the risks involved as a participant in Airsoft should you sign this document.

1. The sport of Airsoft is an inherently dangerous activity. The game involves the use of high powered replica guns that fire plastic pellets at high velocities. Without adequate protection these pellets could break or penetrate the skin on impact. Should a pellet strike a person in the eyes, ears, nose or any vital area of the body that is not adequately protected, temporary or permanent injury, or in extreme circumstances, death, may occur. Participants are required to wear safety goggles that meet or exceed the ANSI z 87.1 standards and form a complete seal around the eyes and nose. Participants are also advised to wear face, ear, neck and groin protection. While participating in games participants are discouraged from shooting at the Face, Ears, Neck, and Groin of other participants.
2. Participants play the game on rough and hazardous terrain, and there remains the risk that a participant could be injured as a result of the hazardous nature of the terrain. Hazards include but are not limited to; sharp branches at eye level, rocks, holes, cliffs and other unpredictable hazards. Participants are responsible for dressing appropriately for the terrain. Boots with ankle support, long sleeve shirt, elbow and knee pads are highly recommended to remain comfortable and safe. Also caution must be taken when crawling, running, walking, and especially climbing around the hazardous terrain.
3. The sport of Airsoft involves rigorous and strenuous physical activity on the part of the participant. Accordingly, a person should not participate in the sport if he or she is not in good physical condition, or has any physical or mental illness or handicap which could be worsened by such participation or make the participant more vulnerable to physical injury or death. In some cases, players may be exposed to plants or elements that could cause serious injury as a result of an allergic reaction.
4. It shall be the responsibility of each participant to obey all rules and utilize all safety equipment at all times. Safety equipment is designed to minimize the risk of injury and/or death, but its proper use does not guarantee that such injury will not occur. By signing this Waiver/Release the undersigned (and, if applicable, his or her guardian) acknowledges that he/she has read the foregoing disclosures of the risks and, further, agrees that he/she assumes all such risks and will hold the owners, operators, participants, and all of their agents and employees completely free and harmless from any and all damages from physical injuries and/or death which may result from the undersigned's participation whether outside or inside any of the fields facilities.
